

CRIME VICTIM SERVICES COMMISSION

ANNUAL REPORT
2000

October 1, 1999-September 30, 2000

Crime Victim Services Commission

The Crime Victim Services Commission is the state agency charged with overseeing a wide range of services and funding for victims of crime. Its goal is to promote services and supports that enhance the health, safety, dignity and rights of victims of crime across the state of Michigan. The commission is appointed by the Governor and is composed of a practicing attorney, a county prosecutor, a law enforcement officer, a member of the medical profession and a community-based victim advocate.

The commission is empowered to investigate and determine claims for crime victim compensation, to monitor, evaluate and coordinate state and local victim assistance programs, to determine and administer revenues and assessments required in support of services under the Crime Victims Rights Act, and to administer federal funds under the Victims of Crime Act of 1984 (VOCA).

The commission would like to extend its thanks and appreciation to the many excellent victim service agencies, organizations and individuals that work with us to carry out the important task of providing crime victim services in Michigan.

In accordance with MCL 18.353, the commission shall give an annual report of its activities to the Governor and the legislature. The commission is pleased to provide this report for the period October 1, 1999 through September 30, 2000.

Significant Accomplishments

These activities are entirely supported with dollars paid by criminal defendants.

Victim Rights Training Project for the Judiciary

The Michigan Judicial Institute was awarded a VOCA training grant to develop a seminar presentation on the Crime Victims Rights Act for judicial branch probation officers employed by Michigan district courts and the family division of circuit courts. One four-hour seminar session titled: "Implementing the Crime Victim Rights Act in Your Court" was held. The three objectives for this project are: 1. To educate court personnel about the Crime Victim Rights Act and other statutes protecting crime victims. 2. To train court personnel to carry out their duties in a way that shows consideration for the safety, confidentiality, financial losses and other personal or psychological concerns of crime victims. 3. To inform court personnel about other community resources that can assist crime victims with concerns relating to the crime. A reference manual on victim's rights will also be produced for distribution to all court personnel under this project.

Michigan Crime Victim Notification Network

The Michigan Crime Victim Notification Network (MCVNN) is a free, anonymous, fully automated telephone notification service that immediately notifies registered crime victims and other users upon a change in an offender's status. MCVNN can relay important custody, court or arrest information in a matter of minutes anywhere in the United States. Victims and others may call 800-770-7657 to register for notification or to get immediate status information on prisoners in custody of the Department of Corrections or participating county jails. Victims will be registered by the prosecuting attorney to receive timely notice of scheduled court events.

Implementation of the MCVNN system proceeded throughout 2000 with 32 jails and 1 court placed into production. A steering committee comprised of representatives from the Department of Community Health, Department of Corrections, Michigan Sheriff's Association and Prosecuting Attorneys Association of Michigan provides oversight on system development and installation. By year-end, Department of Corrections operating criteria was approaching finalization, progress continued on the prosecuting attorney segment, and training was initiated for new users. Developed by the VINE Company, MCVNN empowers crime victims by providing important information pertinent to their particular situation and a sense of security, safety and control.

Michigan Victim Assistance Academy

The third annual Michigan Victim Assistance Academy (MVAA) was held on May 7-12, 2000. Academy instruction in the provision and management of crime victim services successfully met program goals and objectives for the attendees. The 45-hour course on victimology, victim's rights and victim services covered six-days and offered more than 20 topics ranging from child victimization to working with the media. Forty-three participants attended the weeklong academy and benefited from the intense instruction and interaction. A goal of the Academy was the recruitment of community-based teams of victim service providers such as a prosecutor's victim advocate, a police officer, and local victim advocates, to participate. Eighty-three percent of the academy evaluations gave excellent or outstanding ratings. In addition, a separate day and a half advanced training on strengthening coordinated community response was attended by 29 academy graduates.

Traumatic Brain Injury Project (TBI)

A joint effort between the department, the Michigan Public Health Institute, the TBI Advisory Committee and the Interagency Professional Advisory Committee, the Commission's participation resulted from the frequency with which TBI patients file victim compensation claims as a result of violence-related injuries. The purpose was development of a five-year strategic plan to provide TBI services throughout Michigan, primarily for those persons who incur a traumatic brain injury and are not covered under no-fault insurance. Through the TBI planning grant process, Michigan developed a state action plan which established goals and objectives for meeting the needs of TBI patients in the seven key challenge areas of funding, access, lifelong services, pediatric through geriatric needs, substance abuse, violence-related injury, and awareness and identification of TBI injuries. In 2000, the project moved forward toward improving public services available to the TBI population.

Crime Victims Rights Training and Coordination

The commission continued its partnership and support for the Prosecuting Attorneys Association of Michigan's victim rights coordination and training project. As a result of this project, victim's rights coordinators from around the state attended an annual training seminar, a leadership program, a session on responding to school violence and two basic trainings for new advocates. Victim advocates in prosecutors' offices across Michigan remain the front-line providers of crime victim's rights. The commission also continued its partnership with the Michigan Sheriffs Association's volunteer advocate training program by offering training opportunities, beepers, printed materials and other resources for the important work these volunteers accomplish.

Evaluation Training

A workbook entitled Program Evaluation for VOCA Grantees Level 1 was developed and followed by two full-day workshops on evaluation. The training efforts focused on how to develop outcome evaluation tools while protecting the confidentiality and safety of survivors; how to be respectful to clients when gathering and using the information; and how to address issues of diversity in the evaluation plan. The workbook and the evaluation training workshops were developed to meet the needs of victim service agencies providing services in tribal, public or private non-profit organizations.

Grant Compliance Review and Needs Assessment

Grant Compliance Review & Needs Assessment site reviews were performed at twenty-five federally funded victim assistance projects in conjunction with an agreement with the Michigan Public Health Institute. The site reviews averaged between six and eight hours. All agencies were found to be in compliance with contractual requirements. The agencies receiving these site-visits also provided invaluable insights and information to the department on topics ranging from local automation needs to community coordination strategies. In addition to the site visits, the Council of Advocates, a group composed of representative leaders in the victim services community, was convened for the purpose of exchanging information and soliciting comment from the field.

Automated Grant Management

To better serve its customers and to perform its job more efficiently, the commission has committed to automating its internal and external grant management practices. To this end, the development, testing and installation of the Web based SIGMA (State Integrated Grant Management Application) continues to receive high priority. With the successful inauguration of SIGMA 1 in 1999, financial, accounting and program records are now retained, processed and accessed on line. In 2000, the commission continued this effort with preliminary work on SIGMA 2. The SIGMA 2 project provides the state's first Web based grant application and reporting platform. Full implementation of this system in 2002 will result in extraordinary savings and efficiencies for both local agencies that receive grant funds and for the department.

Sexual Assault Task Force

The commission supported the important efforts of the Michigan Coalition Against Domestic and Sexual Violence's Sexual Assault Task Force. The purpose is to identify barriers to rights and services for sexual assault victims in Michigan.

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

The Crime Victim Services Commission is the state agency concerned with all aspects of services for victims of crime. The commission is composed of five members appointed by the Governor. The members include a practicing attorney, a county prosecutor, a law enforcement officer, a member of the medical profession and a community-based victim advocate. The commission was created by P.A. 519 of 1996 and succeeds the Crime Victim Compensation Board created by P.A. 223 of 1976, and the Criminal Assessments Commission created by P.A. 196 of 1989. Executive Order 1997-10 transferred the commission from the Department of Management and Budget to the Department of Community Health. The department administers three victim service programs providing over $16 million in services to over 200,000 citizens. The programs are crime victim's compensation, crime victim's rights, and crime victim's assistance. The commission provides an advisory role in disbursement of funding, determines criminal assessment amounts, and acts as the appeals forum for compensation claims. In addition to these major program areas, the commission also provides training and technical assistance for state victim advocates, and is project leader for the statewide automated crime victim notification project.

Crime Victims Compensation

During FY 99-00, the crime victims compensation program provided $1.7 million in direct financial assistance to 696 crime victims. In 23 years of operation the program has paid out approximately $46 million in 23,989 awards of compensation. These payments are a last resort for injured crime victims with unpaid medical bills, loss of earnings or support, burial payments, and counseling needs. Eligible victims cannot be responsible for their injury, must report the crime promptly, must cooperate with the police investigation and show financial hardship. A maximum of $15,000 may be reimbursed to each injured victim or victim's family.

Crime Victim Assistance

The crime victim assistance program provides federal pass-through dollars in grants to local public and non-profit agencies that engage in direct services to crime victims in the community. Annual support levels are determined by U.S. Treasury receipt of federal criminal fines and forfeitures. Private non-profit and public agencies are awarded funds through an annual competitive application process. Priority is given to projects providing services to victims of child abuse, sexual assault, domestic violence, and underserved crime victims. Direct services that may be funded include crises counseling, therapy, group treatment, shelter and safe-house, emergency legal and personal advocacy, information and referral, and criminal justice support. To be eligible, an agency must promote public and private coordination, utilize volunteers, have non-federal sources of service funds, and assist victims with compensation claims.

Crime Victims Rights and Assessment Revenue

The crime victims rights program administers assessment revenue collected from convicted defendants by circuit, district and juvenile courts. Funds are disbursed to Michigan's 83 prosecuting attorneys and several juvenile courts to support implementation of P.A. 87 of 1985, the Crime Victims Rights Act. This act provides comprehensive, mandatory rights for crime victims to participate in, and be notified of all pertinent proceedings in the criminal justice process for their case. Implementation and support of these comprehensive local case management duties for crime victims is an ongoing priority.

History of Authorization for Crime Victim Services

CRIME VICTIMS COMPENSATION ACT-PA 223 of 1976 (M.C.L. 18.351)

This act created the Crime Victims Compensation Board and provided for the reimbursement of otherwise unreimbursable expenses to innocent crime victims who suffer personal injury. Michigan became the 17th state to offer this program. The act was amended six times between 1985 and 1996 to expand basic program eligibility and coverage for victims.

VICTIMS OF CRIME ACT OF 1984 [VOCA] (Public Law 98-473, 98 Stat.2170)

This federal statute created the Crime Victims Fund in the U.S. Treasury. Federal criminal fines and forfeitures support the fund. The Office for Victims of Crime in the U.S. Department of Justice disburses the bulk of these funds to state crime victim compensation and victim assistance programs. In general, about one-half of the fund supports state victim compensation programs, which receive 40 percent of their previous years payout of state funds to crime victims; and about one-half of the fund supports state victim assistance programs, which receive a base, grant and a proportional share based on state population.

THE CRIME VICTIMS RIGHTS ACT-PA 87 of 1985 (M.C.L. 780.751)

The Crime Victims Rights Act created comprehensive rights of notification and participation in all stages of the criminal justice process for felony crime victims in Michigan. The act was amended to include the victims of serious misdemeanors and juvenile offenses in 1988. Several additional improvements in the implementation and scope of services have been made since. The act creates a duty for police agencies, sheriff's departments, prosecuting attorneys, courts and other agencies to include the crime victim in the official conduct of criminal proceedings. A significant majority of the additional case management work falls upon the county prosecuting attorney.

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT FOR CRIME VICTIMS RIGHTS

Upon legislative approval of House Joint Resolution P, 84th Legislature, and Proposal B by the electorate on November 8, 1988, Article I, Section 23 was added to the Constitution of the State of Michigan. Effective December 24, 1988, the amendment gave constitutional authority for the statutory rights of crime victims, provided legislative authority to enforce victims rights, and provided legislative authority to assess convicted defendants to pay for crime victims rights.

THE CRIMINAL ASSESSMENTS ACT-PA 196 of 1989 (M.C.L. 780.901)

This act created the Criminal Assessments Commission and the Crime Victims Rights Fund. It authorized courts to order and collect financial assessments from criminal defendants to support the fund, and provided for disbursements from the fund to support crime victim rights services. The commission was charged with recommending appropriate assessment amounts to support the fund. This act has been amended several times to increase assessment amounts and to increase the number of assessable offenses. Effective in FY 97-98, the fund provides 100 percent of state dollars to crime victim rights services.

PA 519 of 1996 (M.C.L. 18.351)

Created the Crime Victim Services Commission and abolished the Crime Victims Compensation Board. The number of members was increased from three to five, and the commission was provided unprecedented authority to coordinate state services and funding for victims of crime.

PA 520 of 1996 (M.C.L. 780.901)

Abolished the Criminal Assessments Commission and transferred its powers to the Crime Victim Services Commission.

Representative Claim Summaries

The following case descriptions are examples of the kinds of cases that come before the Crime Victim Services Commission. These summaries provide a representative sample of claim decisions; they do not necessarily contain all evidentiary detail relevant to the decision in the case. Identifying information has been deleted in the interest of confidentiality.

The crime victims compensation program was established to assist victims and persons aiding victims of crimes who, through no significant fault of their own, suffer actual bodily harm as a direct result of a crime.

This assistance includes reimbursement for out-of-pocket losses for medical care, counseling, funeral benefits and loss of earnings or support resulting from the injury. Crime victim's compensation is the payer of last resort. Loss or damage to personal property is not reimbursable. The maximum award is $15,000.

The crime must be reported to the proper authorities within 48 hours and a claim should be filed with the commission no later than one year after the occurrence of the crime. Claims in which the victim is responsible for the injury are not eligible, and the victim must cooperate with all reasonable requests of law enforcement agencies. Intent to defraud or cheat by falsely presenting the facts and circumstances of a crime to the commission is punishable by fine or imprisonment

AWARDS

A 36-year-old woman who had been sexually assaulted filed a claim for reimbursement of her medical expenses and loss of earnings. The victim's assailant was her ex-husband, who the victim agreed to meet for the purpose of returning his wedding ring. While she was talking to him, he pulled a knife on her and forced her into her vehicle. He then forced her to take him to her bank to withdraw funds for him, after which he bound her feet and hands and sexually assaulted her. The victim's offender was sentenced to prison for multiple offenses. The Commission helped this victim by reimbursing her out-of-pocket medical expenses in full. In addition, the Commission reimbursed her for 4 days loss of earnings, waiving the 2 continuous weeks' loss requirement because she was the victim of criminal sexual conduct in the first degree. Total award: $1,165.00.

The mother of a 45-year-old female homicide victim filed for reimbursement of burial expenses and loss of support. The victim had been living with the defendant and had been caring for the defendant's children. At some point the defendant feared that the victim had overheard a discussion between herself and her boyfriend about their earlier murder of the defendant's husband by injecting him with heroin and insulin. The defendant and her boyfriend later admitted to staging a robbery scene to cover up their subsequent murder of this victim. During the commission of the crime, both defendants hit the victim in the head with a glass bank and a gun and then forced her to lie on the bed with hands and feet tied to the bedposts. The female defendant then injected syringes of battery acid and bleach into the victim's body. Both defendants admitted to sitting and smoking crack cocaine waiting for the victim to die. Hours later, when the victim was still breathing, they suffocated her with a towel. The defendants then drove the body to another location, poured gasoline over the body and set it on fire. Both defendants were sentenced to life in prison without parole. The claimant was appointed guardian of the victim's children and was awarded compensation for burial assistance and other reimbursable losses. The state has since been fully reimbursed by the defendants for this award. Total award: $3,809.00.

A 25-year-old male sustained a gunshot wound to his thigh and filed a claim for reimbursement of medical expenses and loss of earnings. The victim was walking down the street when an unknown perpetrator came up behind him and grabbed him. The victim was able to free himself but the perpetrator then pulled out a gun and shot him. The victim had neither medical insurance nor benefits available to cover lost income. The commission was able to help this victim by paying him the maximum award for 4 weeks loss of earnings and medical expenses that exceeded the maximum award. Total award: $15,000.00.

A 35-year-old Chrysler employee was assaulted and robbed while filling his gas tank in the middle of the afternoon. He sustained a fractured skull and a shoulder injury which required total surgical reconstruction eleven months later. This victim's medical expenses were covered in full through his group health insurance policy. He was also covered by employer disability benefits; however, these benefits only partially covered his loss of income while off work. The victim was unable to return to work for 58 weeks and the Commission helped him by paying loss of earnings based on the difference between pre-injury income and the disability benefits. Total award: $11,600.00.

A 57-year-old man filed a claim for reimbursement of medical and dental expenses. Police reported that after leaving a bar, this victim got into what he believed was his vehicle and fell asleep. The owner of the vehicle discovered the victim in her car and asked for help getting him out. A male friend went with her to awaken the victim. When nudged, the victim asked to be left alone, and, when nudged again, said he was getting up. The male then punched the victim in the face several times with his fist and dragged him out of the car. He then returned to the bar gloating that he had beat up an old man. The owner of the vehicle reported there was no reason for her friend to assault the victim. The victim suffered a nasal septum deviation and a fractured front tooth. The defendant was charged as a habitual offender, sentenced, and ordered to pay restitution to the victim. The victim had no insurance, however, it was learned the defendant had paid $400 of the ordered restitution. The commission helped this victim by reimbursing $845 in medical expenses less the $400 restitution paid, and the cost of a 3-unit bridge to replace the tooth the victim had lost. Total award: $1,469.00.

A 30-year-old woman sustained multiple lacerations to her wrist and a stab wound to her abdomen when her boyfriend assaulted her and filed a claim for reimbursement of out-of-pocket medical expenses and loss of earnings. The defendant explained his assault by claiming that he believed the victim had been gone for too long while purchasing a new pocketknife for him. When the victim returned, the defendant began verbally abusing her, picked up the knife, and then stabbed her multiple times. It was also learned there was an unserved personal protection order against the defendant. The commission was not able to help the victim with any loss of earnings because her employment had ceased 7 months prior to the assault. However, all medical expenses were paid in full. Total award: $7,825.00.

The daughter of a 77-year-old man filed a claim for reimbursement of her father's funeral expenses. Neighbors had initially reported to the claimant that her father had fallen off a ladder and fractured his skull. While visiting with him in the hospital, her father asked for his wallet and, not finding it, he told his daughter that he had it with him when he was pushed off the ladder. Police were then called in and determined that the victim had been robbed and assaulted. The victim died about seven weeks following this crime, and the perpetrator was eventually arrested, charged, and sentenced to prison. Although there were insurance policies that made payment toward the funeral costs, there was still a substantial outstanding balance the claimant was required to pay. The commission was able to help the claimant cover this loss by awarding the maximum burial benefit. Total award: $2,000.00.

DENIALS

A 28-year-old woman whose car was stolen from a funeral home parking lot filed a claim for reimbursement of an inpatient psychiatric bill as well as for the loss of her vehicle. She claimed that the theft of her car exacerbated her existing depression and put her “over the edge”. This claim was denied because the claimant did not suffer a personal physical injury as the result of a crime and because theft, loss, or damage to personal property is not reimbursable under the Crime Victims Compensation Act.

A 30-year-old woman filed a claim two to three years following the dates of three alleged domestic assaults seeking reimbursement of medical expenses. The victim claimed her assailant in the first assault was her boyfriend and that the assailant in one of the other assaults was her ex-husband. The victim did not provide a reason for exception for the late filing of her claim. Investigation determined the assailant in her first assault was not her boyfriend, but her stepbrother. And, the assailant in neither of the other two assaults could have been her ex-husband as he was in jail at the time. The claimant failed to testify at her stepbrother’s trial and the second and third alleged incidents had never been reported to police. The victim incurred no out-of-pocket expenses for her medical treatment as she was covered by Medicaid at the time she sought surgery for the fractured nose she sustained during the first assault and had been Medicaid eligible ever since. The claim was denied because the claim was not filed within one year of the dates of the crimes, because two of the assaults had not been reported to law enforcement, because she had failed to cooperate with prosecution of her stepbrother, and because Medicaid covered her medical treatment. The claimant appealed the denial decision to the commission. The commission reversed and granted good cause exception for late filing of the claim but upheld all other findings of the original denial.

A 22-year-old man claimed he had been run off the road by another person and filed a claim for reimbursement of loss of earnings. He sustained multiple fractures to his face, arm, leg, back, pelvis, and foot. Eyewitnesses reported the claimant had been observed in a bar drinking. He had also been observed passing two cars, nearly striking one, and then losing control of his vehicle, hitting a curb and flipping over twice. Police investigation revealed the claimant was not only driving on a suspended license, but was driving while intoxicated and not using his seatbelt. The claimant was charged with operating a vehicle while under the influence of liquor and driving with a suspended license. This claim was denied on the basis that the claimant was criminally responsible for the act which gave rise to the claim.

A 55-year-old man was assaulted and sustained fractured ribs and an eye injury. The victim notified the commission of the name of his assailant but the prosecutor reported that there was no defendant by that name in the system. The commission followed up with police investigators and learned the victim’s sister had reported the crime three and a half weeks after the assault and that the victim had been out of the hospital for over two weeks. The police attempted to contact the victim both by telephone and by leaving contact cards upon visits to his home. The victim was asked to call the investigator or to come in to provide information. The victim never responded to these requests. This claim was denied because the claimant did not report the incident within 48-hours and because of his willful non-cooperation with law enforcement officials.

A 40-year-old woman sustained a gunshot wound to her right foot. She filed a claim for reimbursement of medical expenses. The narcotics squad reported the claimant was at a known drug house; buying and smoking crack cocaine, at the time of the shooting. In addition, the claimant was Medicaid eligible at the time of the crime. This claim was denied based on the claimant’s misconduct having contributed to the infliction of her injury and because Medicaid reimbursed her medical expenses. The claimant appealed the denial and asked for an evidentiary hearing. The Commission took sworn testimony from her at the hearing. She admitting to buying and using crack cocaine on the day of injury, but claimed there was nothing wrong with her behavior because she was a victim. After hearing the testimony the commission upheld the denial.

The mother of a 22-year-old man filed a claim for reimbursement of her son's funeral expenses. In investigating this claim, the commission learned that the claimant's son was armed with a handgun, and had attempted to rob another person. This person then pulled out a gun and fired at the claimant's son, fatally wounding him. His death was ruled as self-defense. This claim was denied on the basis that the victim was responsible for the crime, as well as on the basis that self-defense, the act which gave rise to the claim, does not constitute a crime.

The claimant was a 26-year-old woman who sustained a fractured jaw and a fractured tooth when punched in the face by her live-in boyfriend. She filed a claim for reimbursement of medical and dental expenses and loss of earnings. The commission learned that the victim's offender had pled guilty within 30 days of the assault and had been sentenced and ordered to pay restitution. The defendant had paid the full $2,982 in restitution several months prior to the date the victim filed her claim with the commission. In addition, it was discovered that all the victim's medical expenses but for $95 had been paid with restitution collected from the defendant, and the victim had missed only three days from work. The claim was denied because the victim did not suffer the statutory $200.00 minimum out of pocket loss or two continuous weeks' loss of earnings.

APPEALS

Claimants dissatisfied with their initial decision may make application in writing for a review of the decision by the full Commission or may request an evidentiary hearing before the Commission. In FY 1999-2000, the Commission heard 38 appeals including 14 evidentiary hearings

The decision of the Commission in affirming or modifying the initial decision becomes the final decision of the Commission. If the claimant remains dissatisfied after the decision of the full Commission, the claimant may appeal the decision to the Court of Appeals. During FY 1999-2000, no new cases were appealed to the Court of Appeals and one appeal from 1999 was pending court determination.

CRIME VICTIM RIGHTS

Crime Victims Rights Fund Revenues

Court	Assessments Collected	Assessments Deposited
Circuit Court	1,152,062	1,036,856
District Court	6,230,368	5,607,331
Probate Court	140,877	126,790
Total	$7,523,307	$6,770,977
Local Revenue	$752,331

PA 196 of 1989 provides that defendants convicted of a felony pay a criminal assessment of $60, persons convicted of serious and specified misdemeanors pay a criminal assessment of $50, and juvenile offenders pay a criminal assessment of $20. Courts may retain up to 10 percent of collected criminal assessments as local revenue. The amounts contained in this report section are compiled from reports submitted to the department pursuant to MCL 780.905.

Pursuant to MCL 780.903, the commission recommends no changes in assessment structure at this time.
